

NCSU Virtual Career Month MS & HS Students – Free Activities starting April 7 thru April 28

(From NCSU – below and attached event details, registration, and site)

The College of Natural Resources will be hosting a FREE Environmental Career Month during the entire month of April starting with our first event on April 7 open to ANYONE.

Event Details: <https://cnr.ncsu.edu/admissions/environmental-exploration-day/>

We will have a wide range of opportunities to keep students engaged remotely while learning about environmental careers.

We need key partners like you to get the word out to students. Please pass this information along to students you know or share on your educational list-servs.

Events include:

- Kick-Off with Keynote Speaker Dr. Daystar, Chief Sustainability Officer of Cotton Inc.
- Environmental Trivia Night with the chance to win NC State prizes!
- Virtual Environmental Career Panels with industry professionals
- College of Natural Resources Major Exploration Hangouts with current students
- Environmental Activities students can do at home
- Special Sessions for Parents and Families to learn about NC State and Environmental Pathways

Please encourage students to register and engage in events we will be hosting all month long.

This is a FREE event for students to stay engaged in environmental careers!

Thank you so much for your continued partnership with the College of Natural Resources.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Parr Piercy ('94 PPT & CHE)
