Alamance County Community Resource Directory

Compiled and Edited by:
Information & Referral Task Force of the United Way Community Council

Funds provided by:
Alamance County Government &
United Way of Alamance Co.

January 1990
Revised 1992, 1994, 1996, 1998, 2000, 2002, 2004, 2006

CRITERIA FOR LISTING IN THE COMMUNITY RESOURCE DIRECTORY

Agencies included in this directory provide their services on a not-for-profit and continuing basis to the residents of Alamance County. If an agency is a for-profit agency, but provides a service on a not-for-profit basis, we have included that service or services in our directory. Services include health, social, recreational, educational, welfare, public assistance, support and civic activities. The directory is organized into two main areas:

- Alphabetical Subject Index
- Alphabetical List of Agencies and Support groups

A United Way Community Council Task Force developed this directory. Inclusion or omission of an agency in the directory does not imply approval or disapproval of the agency's activities. We are not responsible for the quality of the services provided by the agencies listed.

As with any directory, change is a constant factor. This directory will be updated every two years. More current information will be available on the website. We need your assistance to keep the directory current. Changes should be submitted to the United Way of Alamance County:

Program Services

The primary service is the education of over 21,000 students in Kindergarten through Grade 12 at 34 accredited schools, including 19 elementary schools, seven middle schools, seven high schools and one alternative school. Exceptional children's services are available to students who are academically and intellectually gifted and to students who have a variety of special needs. Character education, computer training, workforce development, cultural arts and physical education are available in all schools in addition to the basic academic program. Many of the 19 elementary schools have pre-kindergarten classes for four-year-olds with academic needs. The school system provides transportation and child nutrition programs. Support personnel include guidance counselors, school nurses, school social workers and school psychologists. Special services are also provided to at-risk students, including potential dropouts, migrant families and children for whom English is a second language

Program Services

Kids Path is a unique homecare program for children living with serious and life-threatening conditions. Services are provided by a team of specialized staff that can include a nurse, social worker, chaplain, nurse's assistants, therapists and volunteers, depending on the child's needs and the family wishes. The team partners with the child's physician to develop and implement a plan of care that addresses not only the physical needs of the child but also considers the social, emotional and spiritual needs of the child as well as family members. The Kids Path team can offer support at the time of a devastating diagnosis, provide care coordination during treatment, discharge during stability or, if needed, sensitively provide end-of-life support. Kids Path also provides counseling services for grieving children and youth as well as for children coping with the serious illness of a loved one. A bereavement camp is held annually to provide a supportive environment in which children have the opportunity to learn new ways of coping with their losses.
